Latest incomming NEWS for the NEWSLETTER - MMMonVHF The VHF-DX-Portal

MMMonVHF did receive Info from Ray, GM4CXM which we would like to publish as it was sended to us:

Technology has moved on and with it the increase in electronic devices.
One noticeable aspect of KST feedback for schedules is...sri, 380 qrm, try 382 etc etc. This is super for stations in communication via KST but in the case of an expedition who are not active on KST or the internet, it is not a good experience. Personally, during the Perseids and now with JP21 it is impossible to make contact with some expeditions unless they were to move qrg. I realise many expeditions plan well for their operation and this includes notification of a frequency but with so many "ears" on the band, a simple QSY would not surprise anyone. By there very nature, a expedition will be located where there is little or no electronic qrm but for everyone else it will be either a clear frequency or not.
I would recommend publicity be given to expedition operators who are not able to provide feedback via the internet to chose at least two qrg's rather than one. 00.00-12.00z one qrg, 12.00-24.00 another qrg.
It would be easy to announce/publish! 73 Ray GM4CXM

One answer on these topic of course can be the MMM DXBlog for further expeditions - quick possibilities to announce a QSY or a new QRG to all USERS . . . (see SP8RHP expedition) - TNX Ray for the input!

PLEASE do remember: The MMM-Team is only trying to spot/announce the expedition infos - we are not responceable what happens during the time or the expedition itself, or when the expedition do NOT get QRV! As well we will NOT spread out any "hidden infos" or "unreachable links" or links into "hidden systems" at MMM (see also our POLICY...). Some people will NOT accept the MMM-POLICY and so we are sorry not be able to spread their infos anymore ...

Tnx a lot for all the news and infos these time to: GM4CXM, SP8RHP, WA5WCP, DJ8MS, YU7EF, IZ8EDJ, OH2LAK, DK4KW and as well IOTA/SOTA-RSGB, RSGB/GB2RS-News, EA6VQ-News, SM7AED's 50 MHz notes, 425-DX-News, F5NQL-News, NG3K-News, VA3RJ-News, VHF-DX-RU, OZ6OM Daily DX, REF-Bulletin and infos we did find at the ON4KST-, EA-V-U-SHF- and N0UK-Chats and other Net-sources...

If you do see, or hear, or work yourself an expedition, which is NOT (or with WRONG infos) at our MMMonVHF-page, PLEASE drop us a comment use "CONTACT" at the webpage or via mail: info@...

Have a pleasant DX on VHF and see you during comming openings...
